Course Overview

The TLILIC0005 Licence to operate a boom-type elevating work platform is a nationally recognised EWP licence that qualifies you to operate an EWP anywhere in Australia.

The TLILIC0005 Licence to operate a boom-type elevating work platform teaches you how to safely plan the EWP work, conduct routine checks on an EWP, work at heights in a safe manner, and safely shut down and secure equipment after completing operations.

Successful completion of our EWP course will result in an EWP ticket. These versatile machines are used across a range of industries and are a great start or future to any career.
