

MSMWHS212- Undertake First Response to Fire Incidents One Day Course

Introduction

SRTA Life & Rescue Pty Ltd is a Registered Training Organisation RTO number 45278 registered with the Australian Skills Quality Authority. SRTA Life & Rescue is proud to offer training in MSMWHS212- Undertake First Response to Fire Incidents

Course Description

This course provides learners with the skills and knowledge required to act as a first response to fire situations. This course is designed to meet the requirements from the Manufacturing training package, MSM.

Learners will understand how to identify fire types and what extinguishing medium to use if safe to do so and what actions to take in the event of a fire such as raising the alarms and communications with emergency services.

This unit of competency applies to persons who are required to respond to fires in the workplace.

Topics covered

- Evaluate and communicate the location, nature and extent of the fire emergency in a timely and appropriate manner.
- Maintain personal safety at all times in accordance with WHS guidelines.

- Put on appropriate protective clothing in accordance with organisation procedures.
- Select appropriate extinguishing agents based on knowledge of fire and fuel types.
- Operate basic fighting equipment safely, according to manufacturer specifications and organisation procedure, in order to contain the fire emergency.
- Follow emergency reporting procedures.
- Identify appropriate authorities and notify.
- Clearly and unambiguously communicate information concerning the emergency.
- Evacuate area in a safe and controlled manner when first response has failed to control the fire emergency or has proven inappropriate.
- Secure immediate area of the emergency to ensure no further loss occurs to people, equipment, process and environment.
- Practical use of firefighting equipment on simulated fire

This course prepares learners to undertake the assessment to obtain a Statement of Attainment MSMWHS212 – Undertake First Response to Fire Incidents

Mode of Delivery

Delivery of this course will be classroom based blended with practical activities.

Assessment Summary

The learner will be assessed by demonstrating procedures applicable to this unit. They will also be required to answer a number of written questions regarding their actions and theoretical application of knowledge. The assessment will also be part of a simulated activity set by the assessor.

This assessment must be conducted by an SRTA Life & Rescue assessor and must be completed in the workplace or in another environment that accurately simulates the workplace. The assessor is to actively set tasks for the learner and must observe these tasks being performed.

To standardise the application of this assessment, the assessment tasks (performance evidence) are based on those specified in the Unit of Competency, MSMWHS212- Undertake First Response to Fire Incidents and those of the MSM Training Package. The assessor will use an assessment instrument mapped accordingly to the assessment requirements of this Unit of Competency. Assessors will apply an assessment procedure to ensure you are ready for the assessment and have the right resources and equipment to achieve the right standard.

Course Topics

- Identifying fire emergency and raising alarm
- Initiate basic fire responses
- Notify responsible authorities
- Undertake safe evacuation
