

LEADING MATES PROGRAM

Why This Matters.

At this stage in your career, you may have a vision for where you want to be and as you prepare for greater responsibility you need to develop your own leadership skills toolkit and build self-awareness for the challenges you will face in the future.

Leading Mates Can be Tough

Transition to leading your mates to the hardest change you will make in your career. Going from 'one of the team' to tasking and trying to get things done is difficult.

Why this Course Can Help

Pursuing leadership skills training earlier on in your career is going to provide you with a strong foundation, helping you to develop core elements of how you lead. You are also going to have access to network and learn from others in different industries. Choosing a leadership training provider such as NECA Education & Careers, with a large network and access to different cultures and industries will be of huge benefit.

It is also vital as a leader to learn how to effectively manage your time, resources, and continuous improvement. Inevitably as you grow in stature within your organisation, so will your responsibilities. Understanding how to assign your time and resources will be critical to your success as a leader. Discovering how to measure, analyse, and apply improvements to your repertoire will become pivotal to your ongoing development.
